

SUNDAY

Time	Earth	Fire
10:00		The Norma K Hemming Award A further informative panel on the upcoming Norma K Hemming Award and the associated events at Aussiecon4. Bill Wright, Sarah Parker and others
11:00	SF-Style Music Videos Tiki and Scott present a not-too-serious look at the SF-inspired world of the music video clip. Tiki Swain, Scott Pollard	Prefix-Punk We've seen Cyberpunk and Steampunk but where will the genres go next? Atompunk? Dieselpunk? m1k3y, Paul Poulton, Jess Reid, Jane Routley
12:00	Kim Westwood's Guest of Honour speech I only ever wanted to be a Norden Herd Rider called Troy Kim Westwood
13:00	Lunch
14:00	Is piracy destroying TV? So few people are watching TV as it goes to air these days. It's much easier to download the latest programs from the US and the UK than wait for them to appear on regular TV. Will piracy destroy TV? Mark Pesce, Julia Svaganovic, Danny Oz	Craftonomicon Meet the new crafters and makers. What can you do with a few materials? Why would you do it? Why "But I'm not creative!" is not an excuse. Be inspired by the creativity of other fans. Rachel Holkner, Trudi Canavan
15:00	Forget blogging, podcasting is the new fanzine Experienced podcasters tell why they prefer the medium and how they go about producing their podcasts. Terry Frost	Dating the Undead With consideration of Buffy, Twilight and True Blood, when did it become cool to engage in necrophilia? Heath Miller, Paul Poulton, Paul Verhoeven
16:00	Team Matt vs Team David A new Doctor is upon us. What's lined up for the future of Doctor Who and how do we feel about the end of David Tennant's reign? Will Matt Smith be a sex symbol? Julia Svaganovic, Grant Watson, Danny Oz, George Ivanoff	Ten reasons why the world should/should not end in 2012 Mayan tradition states that the world will end in the year 2012. Our team of experts debate the topic of why the world as we know it should or shouldn't end in the year 2012. Mark Pesce, Kim Westwood, m1k3y, Alan Baxter
17:00	The thinly disguised Dollhouse panel Whedon-esque sexbots of the perfectly groomed thoughtapocalypse or genre mashing vixens of the cliched plot machine... hurry, before this panel, too, gets cancelled. m1k3y, Rachel Holker, Heath Miller	Cyberpunk 2.0 Cyberpunk is far from a dead genre. A consideration of the authors Stross, Doctorow and Sterling. John Parker
18:00	Closing ceremony

SUNDAY

Sun	Harmony	Time
		10.00
The Aussiecon 4 Q&A Session With only a few months to go, now is the time to find out everything you need to know about the upcoming Worldcon in Melbourne. Various members of the Aussiecon 4 committee will answer your questions. Various members of the Aussiecon 4 committee		11.00
		12.00
Lunch		13.00
Nanowrimo = Self-flagellation For last ten years, many writers and would-be writers have attempted to write a novel in a month. Is this a valuable exercise or is it really a form of self-inflicted torture? Heath Miller, Sarah Parker	Reading: Alan Baxter Reading: Cat Sparks	14.00
	Reading: Christian Tamblyn Rant: Alasdair Kempton (Clean Feed & the Ministry of Truth)	15.00